The Haunted Highlander

An inn that has been a home and rest stop for the Manchester community for over one hundred years is to be knocked down at the end of the December. It is virgin territory for paranormalists and psychics, but the facility has been opened to Beckah Boyd and the Ghost Quest team! Here is what they found

The History

- Established in the 1800's as The Elms a small boarding house for the millworkers at Devonshire mills. Emma Coldwell ran the operation her husband Sam was a teamster for the millworkers.
- Archie (son of the Coldwells) decided that growth and change were in order and proceeded to create the Elms resort. Some of the delights on the property included, skiing, tobagganing, golfing, swimming and they had a diner.
- The great flood of 1931 severely damaged The Elms but the family did not give up, they rebuilt the resort as a 27 room New Englander style inn. By the 1960's the Elms was rated one of New England's top resorts.
- In 1982 the Coldwell's success took an abrupt turn when the main house caught fire. They rebuilt, and the building became a diner. In 1984 Archie and his wife sold The Elms to a group in Scotland and the Highlander Inn was born.

The Experiences

- Multiple employees have heard conversations between two women out in the lobby of the conference center
- The radio has been turned up and stations changed while people are setting up for events
- Some employees are hesitant to go up to the second floor in building B they often feel watched and as though they are being 'warned off'
- A ghostly little girl has been seen by both guests and staff throughout the property

The Investigation

- The Ghost Quest crew did a walkthrough of the entire facility with their psychic medium Beckah Boyd who proceeded to identify multiple spirits connected to the buildings and grounds.
- A ghost box session was held in the conference center where one spirit (believed to be that of Emma Coldwell) gave her name.
- A glass divination session held in Building B (the sales office) yielded fabulous results including names and dates particularly that of a male spirit who felt he should have inherited the building and kept referring to it as his home. It was later discovered that the building was not originally part of the grounds, but was bought later by the Coldwell family.

Beckah's Tarotscopes!

This month I used the Silver Era Tarot authored by Russell J. Moon and artistry by Aunia Kahn.

Aries

March 21st
to
April 19th

The Devil knocks on your door at the beginning of the month Aries! Excess and overindulgence may bite you in the bum later. Keep aware of your appetites and your wallet! Mid-month brings the Star, ushering new hopes and dreams. Keep the faith things are moving forward even if it isn't obvious right now. At the end of the month is the Six of Swords indicating time for a change you may be feeling disconnection with the people around you or your environment. This will spur you on to big changes next month.

Taurus

April 20th
to
May 21st

The Moon comes to see you at the beginning of the month telling you to trust your gut with all decisions and allow creativity to be your outlet. Next comes the Four of Wands indicating completion or a feeling of accomplishment. At the end of the month Justice stops by giving you a sense of balance and rightness.

Gemini

June 20th

You start the month in the Ten of Cups indicating a harmonious partnership or relationship. The Nine of Wands comes in at the middle of October indicating a small setback in plans. But don't be disheartened you will overcome and everything will be back on track in no time. At the end of the month you meet up with the Hanged Man in the reverse position indicating now is a time to look inward for resolution rather than opinions and ideas from everyone else.

Cancer

June 21st
to July 22nd

Now is the time for action! So says the Eight of Wands at the beginning of the month. Choices have been made and there is nothing left but to follow through with the plan. The middle of the month brings with it the Seven of Pentacles reversed indicating a big risk, all can be won or lost based on your decision (no pressure!) time to get some advice! At the end of the month you meet the Queen of Cups telling you to pay attention to the people around you, particularly the successful and wise. You will learn some new things which will make life much easier

Leo

July 23rd
to August 22nd

You begin October in the phase of the Knight of Wands influencing you to continue in your current direction with a surety of much success. Midmonth brings the Ten of Pentacles into your sphere indicating a good financial status, with the ability to money aside. It may also come up if there is an inheritance or a lot of debt is cleared. At the end of the month you land in the Two of Cups bestowing a new or renewed friendship or relationship with a feeling of a true partnership!

Virgo

August 23rd
to September 22nd

The Queen of Wands greets you at the beginning of the month with the message to forge ahead with bringing your dreams to fruition success lies around the corner. Mid month you embody the Page of Swords causing you to take an opportunity to advance your knowledge. At the end of the month you come in contact with the Six of Wands giving you a feeling of success and satisfaction.

The Review

I absolutely enjoyed working with this deck, if there was one critique I could give it would be to the models more than the artist. They were at times simply too stiff or in an obvious 'pose'. The actual quality of the graphics is amazing. I must say that I would recommend this deck to someone who enjoys more gothic style art, the images are black and white with pops of color in various pictures throughout the deck. My favorite card? The Hierophant, those blood red lips on a younger female face (very unique as most often the card is depicted as an old man) in the black and white shot with a very intense gaze. If I could get it framed and hang it on my wall I absolutely would. The mix of photographed and illustrative art is fabulous and has a definite ethereal feel to it. This deck is great for the intermediate intuitive reader.

Libra

September 23rd
to
October 21st

The King of Cups greets you at the beginning of the month bringing with him a sense of being driven, busting through obstacles and having to make many decisions. The middle of the month brings Judgement reversed beckoning you to take another look, your drive has become possibly obsessive in nature. This card also warns of a lack of momentum and a feeling of progress stopped. The Ace of Swords brings along a rise from a feeling of defeat and again picking up momentum and a feeling of accomplishment.

Scorpio

October 22nd
to November 21st

You begin in the phase of the Three of Cups reversed indicating that now is the time to bring people together for a common goal. The Page of Cups reversed comes to you at midmonth bringing with it a sense of a need to embrace the inner child. Spend time with a friend, reminisce and relax. The end of the month brings the Five of Cups reversed inducing a sense of hardship and grief. Be sure to take your time with any decision making.

Sagittarius

November 22nd
to December 21st

Watch out Sagittarius! Now is the time to recover from last month the Four of Swords indicates a possible burnout on the horizon. The Tower reversed warns you to be cautious of change. Really take your time and weigh the pros and cons. The Knight of Pentacles warns you not to give into the pressure around you. Don't let other people make the choices for you!

Capricorn

December 22nd
to
January 19th

You start the month as the Queen of Wands reversed indicating a feeling of depression. But this does not last long as you move into the Magician midmonth bringing you to a crossroads. You cannot go forward, nor backward without making a decision. Take a minute and mull it over. At the end of the month you reach the Five of Wands telling you to get involved in some healthy competition. It will be good for your spirit.

Aquarius

January 20th
to
February 18th

You start out in the Two of Swords telling you to accept fate. Release control and let things happen. Midmonth you meet the Hanged Man who tells you that right now you aren't going anywhere, so just relax. But at the end of the month you have the Seven of Swords coming in giving you the ability to confront current issues with people and situations.

Pisces

February 19th
to March 20th

The Devil is knocking at your door at the beginning of the month reminding you that things are only as bad as you perceive it. Sometimes we can cripple ourselves with our negative attitudes. The Fool tells you to take a second and look before you leap but it is definitely time for change at the end of the month comes the Ten of Swords indicating now is the time to pick yourself up by your bootstraps and move on!

Psychic Games

Crayons...are so much fun

Take a box of standard colors of Crayola crayons and some white paper, pick a color and color it on the paper. Have a friend sit across from you with their eyes closed. Send them the color by thinking of that color and focusing on that color. Have the friend imagine what color they can see on your paper. Tell them to say it out loud. See if it is the color you have on the paper. This can be so much fun and it will help show you a glimpse of our psychic side.

Perimeter Game

This exercise will still require your concentration but it can be done in a public place. What you do is to imagine that you are surrounded by an energy perimeter that is about 10 inches to 20 inches away from you; you may close your eyes to keep yourself from getting distracted. Once you feel that there is somebody who has entered the set perimeter, open your eyes and check whether your intuition is correct.

The Phone Game

The next time the phone rings look into your mind's eye and see if you have a mental picture of who is calling. Remember that psychics receive clairvoyant messages in several different ways. Many times what you receive can be symbolic. When the phone rings you might picture the person's face, name, their car, or even their initials. What you "see" will be either the actual person or a symbol that you would recognize as being a specific person.

*Do not keep the past too close, it is what you have done, not where you are now
and does not belong where you are going*

The past is the one thing in life you should love and then leave behind.
